BAPTISTE CHESNAIS

CINEMATOGRAPHER

Born in Lyon, he integrates the ETTIC's formation in Paris and then works for two years on several short films where he had the opportunity to assist Frederic Jango who had a special effects studio called Excalibur where he met SFX teams with whom he still works today.
After few years working as a second camera assistant, he became first camera assistant. With a friend, they created their own production society geared towards music. Baptiste was very into new technologies and started to film with high speed digital cameras and then assist important cinematographers on commercials.
He started to work as a cinematographer on short films, commercials and then music videos and now, he wants to focus on narrative projects.
